

Reducing waste, together.

Hotels are working to keep waste out of America's landfills by reducing single-use plastics and other materials, increasing both staff and guest recycling programs, using innovative kitchen management practices, and increasing composting programs.

Waste Reduction

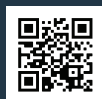

We're keeping food waste, single-use plastics, and other trash out of America's landfills.

Hotels participating in AHLA and WWF's Hotel Kitchen program saw reductions of up to 38 percent of food waste in just 12 weeks.¹

Recycling programs and partnerships with local community composting programs reduce the amount of waste that would end up in landfills.

Many of our hotels are reducing the use of plastic products and replacing them with more environmentally friendly options.

Working with hotel partners, Clean the World has distributed nearly 70 million bars of recycled hotel soap in more than 120 countries.²
